Embassy of the People's Republic of Bangladesh
Katmandu, Nepal

It is our great pleasure to organize the art exhibition titled “Spirit of Friendship” featuring contemporary art works from Bangladesh in association with Siddhartha Art Gallery in Kathmandu from 2 to 14 September 2022. This is in continuation of the Embassy’s effort to highlight the rich and multi-dimensional art and cultural heritage of Bangladesh to the friendly people of Nepal; and at the same time strengthening the bonds of friendship.

The relations between Bangladesh and Nepal are deeply rooted in our shared socio-cultural linkages and multitude of commonalities, which have developed over the years. This year, we are celebrating the fifty years of our diplomatic relations. Over the five decades, our relations have matured on the strong foundations of mutual trust and confidence. A strong people-to-people connect is manifested by the regular visit of Bangladeshis to Nepal to enjoy the beauty of the majestic Himalayas and choice of Bangladesh by Nepalese students as a favored destination for higher studies. Our aim is to add value to this symbiosis by creating an ecosystem of reciprocal understanding and appreciation for each other.

We believe that contemporary art not only portrays the life and struggles of nations, but also adds historical value as silent witnesses to a specific time and era to enable the viewers to gain insight and understand socio-cultural evolution. More importantly, it inspires people to express themselves and share their own thoughts and feelings with anyone and everyone. Just as our common aspirations for social and economic development, we are bound by our love and admiration for art and culture. While we participate in almost all international events, we have also developed Kathmandu and Dhaka as hosts to mega art events attracting participation from all over the world.

The history of contemporary art in Bangladesh is believed to begin at the time of partition of the sub-continent, which got renewed energy following the independence of Bangladesh in 1971. Legendary artists like Zainul Abedin, Qamrul Hasan, S M Sultan, Qayyum Chowdhury, Murtaja Baseer integrated fine arts as a new component in our already rich cultural mix. The legacy is being carried forward by some of their most capable followers. We are happy that our event is curated by renowned artist Kanak Chanpa Chakma, who has distinguished herself by portraying natural beauty and daily struggles of human life through her unique use of colors. The young participants, mostly coming from the ethnic minority communities in the hills, will surely feel energized and motivated to carry forward their works to wider platforms.

I am hopeful that this exhibition will generate renewed enthusiasm for Bangladeshi visual arts amongst the art lovers of Nepal. Wishing the event a grand success!

Salahuddin Noman Chowdhury
Ambassador

Siddhartha Art Gallery has worked closely with artists from Bangladesh over the last 35 years and takes pride in hosting artists from the South Asian region. This exhibition 'The Spirit of Friendship' from Bangladesh is extra special. It celebrates 50 years of diplomatic ties between our two countries and showcases work by both the plain land and indigenous artists from Bangladesh. It is also curated by my first point of contact with Bangladesh the artist Kanak Chanpa Chakma.

Siddhartha Art Gallery has hosted a series of workshops and exhibitions that have brought together artists of Nepal and Bangladesh. In 2002, artists Khalid Mahmood Mithu and Kanak Chanpa Chakma exhibited their work at our gallery. A year later, a poetry reading by the celebrated Bangladeshi poet Kaiser Haq took place. Artists Tayeba Begum Lipi and Mahbubur Rahman from Bangladesh participated in SUTRA residency at Kathmandu in 2006. They also participated in the 'Open Doors Community Art Project' organized by the Gallery and participated in an exhibition which collaboration with Mithila Art. The Bangladeshi artists' group 'Shako' organized a workshop participated by the artists Bangladesh and Nepal titled 'Nepal Rendezvous I' conducted by the late Khalid Mahmood Mithu in 2009. 'Nepal Rendezvous II' was conducted by late Subhir Chowdhury from Bengal Foundation which brought the most senior artists from Bangladesh to Nepal In 2011. Artists Mahabubur Rahman and Tayeba Begum Lipi were invited to curate Bangladesh's participation in the Kathmandu International Arts Festival in 2009, 2012 and participated at Kathmandu Triennale in 2017. In 2010, I was invited by the Bengal Foundation as a guest to observe the Asian Art Biennale Bangladesh. In 2013, Siddhartha Art Gallery was invited by the Dhaka Art Summit to curate Nepal's first participation in the Summit. The Gallery showcased works by Sunil Sigdel, Hitman Gurung and Nhooja Tuladhar. After the Great Earthquakes devastated in Nepal 2015, the artists from Bangladesh organized a fundraiser for the artists in Nepal affected by the earthquake in aid of the Nepali artists and we continue to be touched by the compassion and generosity of the Bangladeshi artists. In 2020, Siddhartha Art Gallery hosted an exhibition titled 'NOWHERE' which featured artists from the South Asian region. In 2022, the works by indigenous artist Joydeb Roaja was showcased at the Kathmandu Triennale and at the SAVVY Contemporary in Berlin.

Art has the power to bring countries together and transcend boundaries— this exhibition 'The Spirit of Friendship' and its unique focus on indigenous artists joins the cultural dots that connect these artists with the hill people from Nepal and northern India. The historic cross-cultural migrations and pollination of ideas took place when our borders were still fluid. We must move beyond the hard borders of the post-colonial period to rekindle the age-old ties between the peoples of South Asia.

SPIRIT OF FRIENDSHIP

GROUP
EXHIBITION

Bangladesh is a beautiful country with a diverse culture. The presence of different indigenous communities makes its culture rich. Hill communities have wonderful customs and unique traditions. There is a special kind of beauty in their simple lifestyle. Even though an obstacle may sometimes disturb the natural flow of time, no barrier can prevent hill communities from expressing their uniqueness. Bangladesh and Nepal have a beautiful friendship. Nepal is a nation blessed with some of the world's highest mountains. It is filled with unbelievably beautiful cultures and colors. The people of Nepal often exhibit patience and calmness. I am completely mesmerized by the country's wonders every time I visit Nepal. The exhibition 'The Spirit of Friendship' represents 12 young artists from both hill and plain land communities at Siddhartha Art Gallery in Kathmandu. These artists grew up in different districts of Bangladesh amidst the beauty of hills and nature. The artists from the hill communities represent their diverse cultures in different ways on their canvases. They have included the various rituals, traditions, customs, and beauty of their surroundings. Artists Mong Mong Sho, Lumbiny Dewan, Nomosta Rema, Sudhip Chakma, Jayatu Chakma, Pingcu Tripua, Munna Bown and Aong Thowai Marma are from hilly communities where Bishwajit Goswami, Azmeer Hossain and Sourav Chowdhury are plainland artists. Every artist painted their own culture and traditions in their unique style.

I am immensely happy to have curated this exhibition in Nepal. I appreciate this exhibition idea that had been put forth by the ambassador of Bangladesh, Mr. Salahuddin Noman Chowdhury to strengthen the friendship between Bangladesh and Nepal. I also acknowledge Sangeeta Thapa, Founder and Director of Siddhartha Art Gallery for organizing the exhibition and for her friendship with the Bangladeshi artists' community.

Finally, I would like to extend my gratitude to Mr. Salahuddin Noman Chowdhury, Ambassador of Bangladesh to Nepal for inviting me to curate this wonderful exhibition.

Kanak Chanpa Chakma

One of Bangladesh's most significant and well-known visual artists. She is the recipient of numerous national and international awards. She was born in Rangamati's hill tracts and was brought up in an indigenous community. Her works strongly focus on presenting the wonderful essence of indigenous people. She tries to reveal their untold stories through her paintings alongside presenting the beauty and colours of their festivals, rituals and culture through her works. Kanak's paintings also introduce her viewers to Buddha's philosophy. Her works often prioritize the difficulties of women who struggle for their rights and participation in families and societies. She paints in oil, acrylic, charcoal and mixed media and uses bold brushstrokes to create large paintings. Her paintings are well-known internationally and can be found in many museums including Bangladesh Museum, Bhutan Museum, Liberation War Museum alongside many private collections and corporate offices. She is currently the founder of Shako Women Artists' Association and the president of Ethnic Artists' Foundation of Bangladesh. She is an inspiration to many young indigenous artists who follow her footsteps.
